KAW VALLEY DISTRICT HOLDS AN INTERESTING MEETING IN LAWRENCE.

One of the most harmonious gatherings of the year was that of the 14th annual session of Kaw Valley District and the Woman's H. and F. M. Society which convened at the 9th Street Baptist Church, Lawrence, Kas. The meeting was called to order by Mrs. Irvin; response by Mrs. L. A. Wilson, Kansas City, Kas. Many interesting thoughts and ideas were advanced in the convention. Some of the new things brought forth by Rev. Watson of Topeka, Kas., were indeed helpful. The Bible questionnaire conducted by Mrs. Z. Nelson created lively discussion and all delegates took interest in the lessons.

The officers elected were: Moderator, Rev. G. N. Jackson, Lawrence; 1st vice, Rev. J. W. Clay, Kansas City, Kas.; recording secretary, Rev. Shannon, Edwardsville; corresponding secretary, Rev. Moses Williams, Kansas City, Kas.; treasurer, Mrs. A. T. Hultz, Kansas City, Kas.

N. A. A. C. P. MAKES INVESTIGATION.

The National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, through its secretary, John R. Shillady, of New York, announces that the names of two ringleaders and fifteen other participants in one of the mobs which lynched the first two of the eleven victims of the five days' lynching orgy which took place in Brooks and Lowndes Counties, Georgia, from May 17 to May 22, were put before Governor Hugh M. Dorsey of Georgia, in person, by Walter F. White, assistant secretary of the association, who spent four days in South Georgia investigating the affair. A full report of Mr. White's findings, which were of a sensational character, were at the same time placed before Governor Dorsey. The summary of the association's report which follows below states that eleven authenticated cases of lynching instead of six as reported in the press at the time, were discovered by their investigator. The report describes the lynching of Mary Turner, the wife of one of the first victims, which was most revolting and brutal. The eleven persons lynched met their fate as the result of mob frenzy, following the killing of Hampton Smith, a white farmer, and the wounding of his wife, on May 16. One of the men lynched is said by the Association to have stated to several persons interviewed by Mr. White that he alone did the shooting and that no others were implicated.

The association says that Mr. White's findings were submitted to Governor Dorsey at the latter's request on July 10 and that a copy was mailed the President for his information a few days ago.

In making public the results of the Assistant Secretary's investigations into the South Georgia lynchings, Mr. Shillady, the Secretary, said that the Association was gratified beyond measure at the recent magnificent pronouncement of President Wilson in condemnation of the mob spirit and lynching.

"The Association appreciates," said Mr. Shillady, "as perhaps no other organization in the country can, the full meaning of the danger which President Wilson seeks to avoid when he calls upon the 'governors of all the states, the law officers of every community, and above all, the men and women of every community in the United States' to make an end of this disgraceful evil."

"The lynching of Negroes," said Mr. Shillady, "had become so much a habit in certain sections of our country that the President's prestige was needed to give impetus to the movement to overcome it. Governor Dorsey, who in his message to the Georgia Legislature on July 3 denounced mob violence in strong terms, and the State of Georgia are now challenged to measure up to the President Wilson's great appeal. In one memorable sentence President Wilson has put it squarely up to each community. As the President says, 'it (lynching and involved in the statements of the mobs that any Negro attempting to leave the region would be considered to be involved in the killing of Smith. "Chime Riley was lynched and clay turpentine cups, used to catch the gum when turpentine trees are cut, were tied to his body and the body thrown into the Little River, near Barney Ga. Simon Schuman was called out of his house near Berlin, Ga., on the Moultrie Road, at night and has not been seen since. The interior of his house, as well as the furniture, was completely demolished.

"The story of Mary Turner's fate was related to the investigator by men who affirmed that they were present at her death and is related with every desire to avoid the gruesome except as is necessary in giving the facts.

"Mary Turner, wife of Hayes Turner, who had been reported by the press as having been lynched because of 'unwise remarks' concerning the lynching of her husband and who was approaching confinement, was tied by the ankles and hung head downward. Gasoline was taken from the automobiles of the lynching party and poured on her clothing, which was then burned from her person. After her clothes had burned off she was disemboweled and her unborn child fell from her womb, and while still alive, was crushed by the heel of a member of the mob. The woman's body was riddled with bullets from high powered rifles until it was unrecognizable. She was buried ten feet from the tree and was wonderful. Every one in the audience arose and gave her the chautauqua salute. She said in part, "Today marks the end of nearly a year since we met in the great city of Philadelphia and I need not say I am indeed proud to meet with you again. We are not only to transact business of this convention, not only to inspire and receive inspiration, but to pledge anew our support of loyalty and patriotism, our love for our country and to say to the President of the United States that the Colored Women of America are ready and willing to undergo hardship and to make the necessary sacrifice that our boys may be brought home victorious, (applause). It is not my purpose to talk war at this time, but I want you to know as interested as I am in my agents and this convention, my first thought is the winning of the war and that should be in the mind of every real American." Speaking of her business she said: "I have conducted my business this year at a loss owing to the unusual cost of material, heavy tax and etc. I have not raised the price because I did not want my agents to suffer. You have been loyal to me and by the help of God I am trying to be loyal to you. (Prolonged applause) I want you to know whatever I have accomplished in life I have paid for it. If you expect to go in business you must make up your mind to work and work hard. My advice to every one expecting to go in business is to hit and hit hard, in other words strike and with all your fight.

mob violence cannot live where the community does not countenance it."

A summary of the report follows:

"Instead of six victims of the mobs which ranged over Brooks and Lowndes Counties from May 17 to May 22, eleven authenticated cases were discovered during an investigation of the circumstances surrounding the killing of Hampton Smith, a white farmer of Brooks County, Georgia, and the wounding of his wife near Barney, Georgia, on May 16, and of the lynchings which followed. Press dispatches at the time named Will Head, Will Thompson, Hayes Turner, Mary Turner, his wife; Eugene Rice and Sidney Johnson; the latter of whom had stated before he was captured to several persons interviewed that he alone was implicated in the affair and that the five who had previously been lynched (the five already named) were not involved in it. Five additional victims were found, Chime Riley, Simon Schuman and three unidentified Negroes whose bodies were taken from the Little River just below Quitman, Georgia, about a week after they had been lynched. Negroes of the neighborhood told the investigator that there were eighteen victims but no more than eleven could be authenticated.

"More than 500 Negroes have left the region since the outbreak, so that a number of Negroes who were said by acquaintances to have mysteriously disappeared could not be located nor their whereabouts ascertained and are not included in the investigator's findings. Hundreds of acres of once productive lands are now over-run with weeds and dozens of farm houses and cabins deserted by their former occupants, despite the threats
